SPANISH LANGUAGE COURSES IN CHILE

Universidad de los Andes offers international students the possibility of learning or improving their Spanish skills in a cultural and academic environment.

Our immersion programs provide the necessary tools to comprehend and interact with the Latin-American Culture with a practical approach.

1) SEMESTER-LONG COURSES

Spanish for beginners

Course for students with no command of Spanish.

This Spanish course is directed towards those who are beginning their studies in the language and are interested in acquiring interaction tools for effective communication in everyday contexts of social exchange. The interactive methodology of the course allows students to be able to understand and use basic expressions, incorporate relevant grammatical resources, use sociocultural interaction strategies and apply their knowledge in a real immersion context.

Intermediate Spanish

Course for students with an intermediate level of Spanish.

This reinforcement course will help students to identify and practice combined language skill components in order to integrate in an academic and social environment. This course will provide tools to make oral presentations in Spanish, to study a specific topic, and to solve communication problems in real situations. During the semester students will acquire skills for interpersonal communication and proactive strategies for their sociocultural integration.
